

500 years

In Spanish with English translation

of mexican books

Colonial book bibliography in indigenous languages

From July 1st to August 12th • Every Thursday from 12 pm to 1 pm CT

The Sessions 1 and 7 will be held via Zoom with registration  required. All other sessions will be accessible via YouTube.

This is a free program open to the public

Session 1
July 1
Opening table

Bibliography and history of the book in indigenous languages: reflections on the fifth centenary

Register at: <https://mp.gg/ydh0r>

Session 2
July 8

Books for the languages of the New World

Session 3
July 15

New Spanish edition in indigenous languages of Mexico

Session 4
July 22

Books and indigenous languages at the Royal University of Mexico: the Otomí and Nahuatl chairs

Session 5
July 29

Designers of the native language: Calligraphers and indigenous typographers in New Spain

Session 6
August 5

Agents of the colonial edition in indigenous languages

Session 7
August 12
Closing table

500 years of Mexican books in indigenous languages: Current studies and future perspectives

Register at: <https://mp.gg/dbzz4>

Coordinated by:

Dr. Marina Garone Gravier
Researcher at the Bibliographic Research Institute, UNAM